

Blended Zine Artists and Teen Artists

Interested in selling your art?

The Student Workshop Committee recommends a free one day workshop, from 9am to 12pm, on Saturday Jan. 14, 2012. Attendees would be from the college community and possibly surrounding high school art classes with the aim of helping these artists display at the High Desert Art Festival (February), Farmington Downtown Art Walk (April) and, for those eligible, the San Juan College Student Show (May). No fee would be charged. Other issues discussed:

- 1) Focus of workshop
 - A. Presentation, with emphasis on cleanliness
 - i. matting
 - ii. framing
 - iii. wiring
 - B. Art as a career:
 - i. professionalism and attitude
 - ii. marketing and pricing
 - iii. entering shows & related info
 - a) how to find appropriate events
 - b) submissions and rejections
 - iv. need for photo and computer skills
 - v. galleries
- 2) Additional items to be decided:
 - A. Location
 - B. Presenters
 - C. How to distribute information regarding workshop
 - i. flyers
 - ii. via teaching faculty
 - iii. when to send info, possibly before Christmas break with a reminder first part of January
 - iv. working with Farmington Library "Zeem Program"
 - D. Workshop title
 - E. Will email or text information regarding room number and workshop.

Contact: Michael Bullock at 505-716-6057 for more details.

Or email: frujill@infoway.org

Northwest New Mexico Arts Council